

Hackathon 23

The faculty of computing at capital university of science and technology is conducting the hackathon on Saturday May 27, 2023. "Hackathon" will focus on health-related issues in the modern world. The "Hackathon" event will give participants the chance to design a system to address health-related issues using the newest tools and technologies, such as machine learning, IoT, etc.

Why Hackathon 23

- Chance to get hands-on experience with real life health related problems.
- Chance to propose latest technology based innovative solutions.
- Chance to get real time feedback on proposed solution from peers and professionals from academia and industry.

Event Date

May 27, 2023

For Information and Details